Miss Mary Elton Schafer continues quite sick at her home in the southwestern part of the city.

WHO OWNS THE STEAMER?—About 150 members of the People's Transportation Company met in Washington last night. The company is composed of colored people, who were not sure whether they owned the steamer Lady of the Lake or not, and whether their president, J. W. Patterson, was conducting the affairs of the company in an entirely satisfactory manner. The declared purpose of the meeting was to receive the report of an investigating committee. The charges set forth in the report of the investigators were that it was understood the Lady of the Lake had cost $10,000, while they showed that $42,500 had been paid for the vessel; furthermore, the records showed that $15,000 of the amount had been paid and yet there was a deed of trust on the vessel for $30,000. Regarding the receipts from the trips made by the boat from May 29 to August 26, 1894, they could only find records of $5,584.95 from the trips to Norfolk and $3,479.77 from the Glymont trips. This was considered an absolutely small sum. Besides this they were only able to find records of $12,909.29 having been paid in on the capital stock of $25,000, and $10,000 of this amount was supposed to have been paid in by the president. As soon as the report of the committee had been read pandemonium broke loose, and at 1 o'clock a. m. the meeting broke up in the wildest confusion.

THE FIRE IN WASHINGTON.—By a misunderstanding of a telephone message it was stated yesterday that the new hotel building, the Raleigh, at Twelfth street and Pennsylvania avenue, Washington, had been destroyed by fire. There was no fire in that building, but some excitement had been created in the neighborhood by the discovery that the structure had settled at the first floor more than a foot. Several columns had given way and were badly broken, while it was evident everywhere that the walls of the building would not support the cement floors that have been laid. After the first scare was over the workmen returned to their labors, and were soon busy straightening up the debris. A dangerous fire, however, did break out yesterday afternoon in the stables of William Reilly, at the foot of Twelfth street, at the water front. The entire water front was in danger, but the firemen soon had the flames under control, and succeeded in preventing the spread to adjoining property, although at one time several small frames were set on fire by flying sparks. The stables were entirely consumed, and the fish-house of C. H. Javins & Son, adjoining, were partially burned. The damage is estimated at between $8,000 and $10,000, with $1,500 insurance. Mr. Javins formerly lived in this city.

WANTED DYNAMITE.—A native of Prince William county came to this city yesterday and entered several stores, in which he inquired for dynamite. A practical joker informed an aspirant for a position on the police force of the fact that the countryman was looking for dynamite and should be watched. The aspirant, supposing the rural gent was an anarchist, accosted him and demanded, in terms as wise as polite, what the dynamite was wanted for. The stranger was dumfounded and no little alarmed, and explained as best he could that he was digging a well and desired some of the explosive to aid in the work. He was told by the would-be wielder of the billy that he must be careful how he went around the streets asking for dynamite, as he might be taken for a dangerous character and dealt with accordingly. The stranger acted very careful when he entered the next store, looking this way and that way before making his business known, and is said to have been exceedingly verbose in his introductory before mentioning the article he desired to purchase. He finally procured what he wanted and left for his home.

COUNTY SUPERVISORS.—The county supervisors met to-day and after examining several bids for the construction of an iron bridge at Torrison's crossing over Four-mile-run, awarded the contract for such bridge to the Canton Bridge Company for $350. The contract was awarded provided the company would paint the bridge, the bearings of which are to be not less than 18 inches on suitable bearing plates. The Washington, Arlington and Falls Church railway company was authorized to make some change in its location in Rosslyn, provided it paved and kept in repair the space between and five feet each side of its beds.

It was ordered that the bridge at Pimmet Run be painted.

All the accounts presented were audited and the board adjourned till the second Tuesday in October.

DEFIANT TRAMPS.—About 8 o'clock last night Mr. William Rodgers, who had with his family been sitting in front of his residence on Fayette street, concluded to go into the house, and directed a young man employed by him to take in some chairs which were on the pavement. Three strange men were seen standing near one of the windows, and deeming their conduct suspicious, Mr. Rodgers asked them why they were loitering about his premises. Their reply was unsatisfactory, and Mr. Rodgers ordered them away. They refused to leave, and he proceeded to the street, picked up a brick and prepared himself to use force. At this juncture one of the strangers drew a pistol and stood on the defensive. Mr. Rodgers then dropped the missile and ran in the house for his gun, but when he returned to the street the men had vanished.

ARRESTED FOR INSOLENCE.—Some excitement was caused on King street last night by the arrest of a colored woman named Susan Wilson, who was charged with deliberately colliding with Lieutenant Smith at the corner of King and St. Asaph streets while he was in charge of the relief squad. The woman was walking with a colored man at the time, and the police gave the couple about two-thirds of the pavement by turning out of their way. The woman intentionally forced herself violently against the lieutenant and then, in a boisterous and insulting manner, wanted to know why he ran into her. She was taken in charge and by her resistance and the free use of her lungs she drew a crowd of about one hundred people. The Mayor this morning fined her $5.

DELIGHTFUL CHANGE.—The weather last night underwent a delightful change, and this morning, instead of the torrid weather of the past few days, a refreshing northwest wind was prevailing with a decidedly lower temperature. At the close of yesterday the heavens became cloudy, the wind changed to the northwest, and for a time there was a heavy blow, but the clouds broke and it was soon seen there was to be but little, if any, rain. A slight shower fell about 9 o'clock, after which the wind ceased to blow and sultriness again prevailed. Shortly after midnight, however, the breeze became fresh and the temperature took a decided tumble. To-day the weather has been seasonable and enjoyable after the baking sun's rays of the past week.

POLICE COURT.—Mayor Strauss presiding.—The following cases were disposed of this morning:

Susan Wilson, colored, arrested by Lieutenant Smith for insolence on the street, was fined $5.

John Simms, arrested by Lieutenant Smith for being drunk and disorderly was fined $2.50.

A boy named Charles Bell, charged with taking a kick belonging to H. A. Simmons, was released upon his father promising to correct him.

Night Report.—Last night was cloudy and mild. Two prisoners were at the station house.

DESERTED HIS FAMILY.—A. J. Spencer, a pensioner who lived in the southwestern part of the city, a few days since drew $108 pension money and left here for parts unknown, leaving four children and a wife, who is in a delicate condition. To-day the effects of Spencer were attached for debt. Spencer, it is said, came from Michigan and had been residing here but a few months. He is given to drinking and it is said on a previous occasion similarly deserted his helpless family but his wife says she doesn't think he will again return.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT.—James Allen, who lives on the Huntley farm in Fairfax county, about three miles below this city, was painfully wounded by a pistol shot on Sunday last. Allen was killing the pistol, not knowing that it was loaded, when it exploded. The ball entered his thigh inflicting a dangerous wound and breaking the bone. A child standing near by narrowly missed being shot. The wounded man was attended by Drs. Nevitt and Barton, of Fairfax.

FUNERAL.—The funeral of the late Francis C. Neale took place this morning from St. Mary's Church and was largely attended. The services were conducted by Rev. Father Cutler and the pall-bearers were Messrs. Fred. Schwab, W. Wheatley, G. Cummins, Geo. Young, R. M. Latham and P. F. Gorman.

ASSAULT.—In Caroline county yesterday

day the seven-year-old daughter of Mr. Judson Carter was assaulted by Moses Christopher, colored, seventeen years old, who was employed on the farm. The negro was subsequently arrested and taken to Bowling Green where he was lodged in jail.

EXTRA POLICE.—Mayor Strauss yesterday appointed Messrs. William Webster and James Hall extra policemen. This was rendered necessary by the fact that three of the force are off on their vacation and two are sick.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The Columbia engine was tested yesterday and worked most satisfactorily. The regular weekly drill of the Alexandria Light Infantry took place at their armory last night.

The case against Archibald Anderson, colored, charged with bigamy, was dismissed by Justice Lovejoy to-day.

The steamer John H. Tygart, of the Maryland and Virginia Steamboat Company, is on the railway in Baltimore for an overhauling.

There was a "still" alarm of fire at 1 o'clock to-day which brought out a part of the fire department, but the alarm was false.

A sand scow belonging to a colored man was swamped in the river off the lower part of the city during the high wind yesterday evening.

Louis Weingart, who had been confined in jail for the past few days for the non-payment of a fine, settled with the Mayor to-day and was released.

John Glynn, the champion bantam-weight of Delaware, is matched to meet an unknown colored bantam-weight of Philadelphia, before the Eureka Club of Alexandria county at an early date.

Complaint is again made of the careless gunners who shoot in the marshes near Hunting creek bridge. Yesterday two horses were shot while crossing the bridge, but fortunately they were not much hurt.

The Grange Camp Association opened its annual exposition and agricultural fair yesterday afternoon at the corner of the Old Dominion Jockey Club on Alexander island. The prospects are that the association will have a successful fair. The fair will last for two weeks.

The sale of blankets at Mr. Isaac Eichberg's dry goods house has proven a great success. Though people have no particular use for such articles now, they will in a few weeks be indispensable, and those who can are now laying in supplies. The sale at the cut prices will close this week.

The session of the district Methodist conference closed at Falls Church on Sunday to meet next time at Waterford. There were twelve topics proposed by the committee, whose duty it was to prepare them for the conference, on which papers were to be written and discussed at the next conference. These topics were to be cut down by the conference to nine. One of these topics was, "Are we responsible for original sin?" This was objected to and submitted to a vote. The conference voted to retain the topic.

Use it in Time. Catarrh starts in the nasal passages, affecting the eyes, ears and throat, and in fact, the great enemy of the mucous membrane. Neglected colds in the head almost invariably precede catarrh, causing an excessive flow of mucus, and if the mucous discharge becomes interrupted the disagreeable results of catarrh will follow, such as bad breath, severe pain across forehead and about the eyes, a roaring and buzzing sound in the ears and oftentimes a very offensive discharge. Ely's Cream Balm is the acknowledged cure for these troubles.
